Team Rehab's AI-Powered Approach to Streamlining Compliance
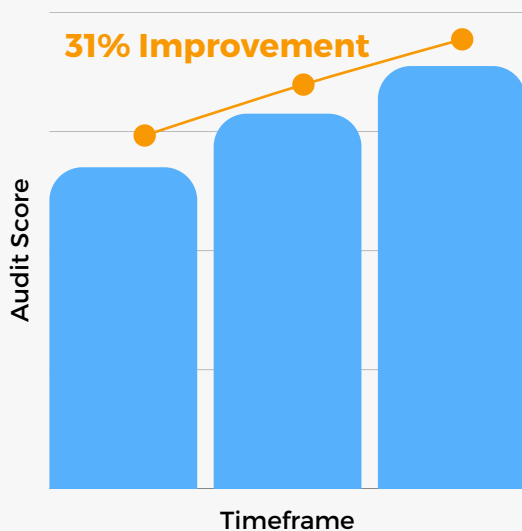

"We tend to do the best business with organizations that have overlapping goals and are great to work with. PredictionHealth fits both molds."

-Nick Weber, CEO

Team REHABILITATION PHYSICAL THERAPY

Results

- 31% improvement in compliance audit score
- More efficient therapist documentation
- Better visibility to risks and therapist training needs

Objective:

To make it as easy and intrinsically motivating for physical therapists and clinic owners to document compliantly while protecting time with patients.

Solution:
Practice Intel AI Analytics

Practice Intel gave Team Rehab visibility into their compliance risks and the charting behaviors and habits of their therapists. They identified their most significant pain points and greatest opportunities for improvement, tailoring training to help therapists correct compliance gaps. Automated, individual scorecards powered better 1:1's to further improve compliance scores without adding to therapists' workloads.
